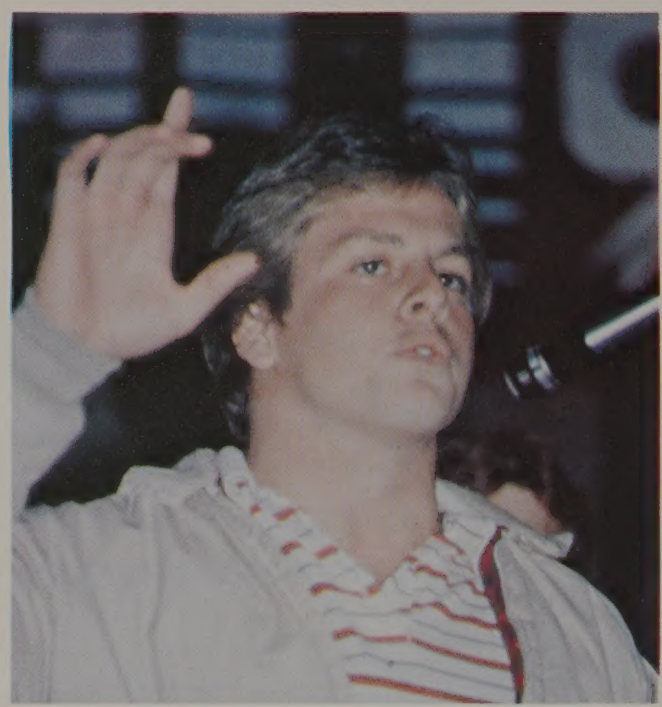
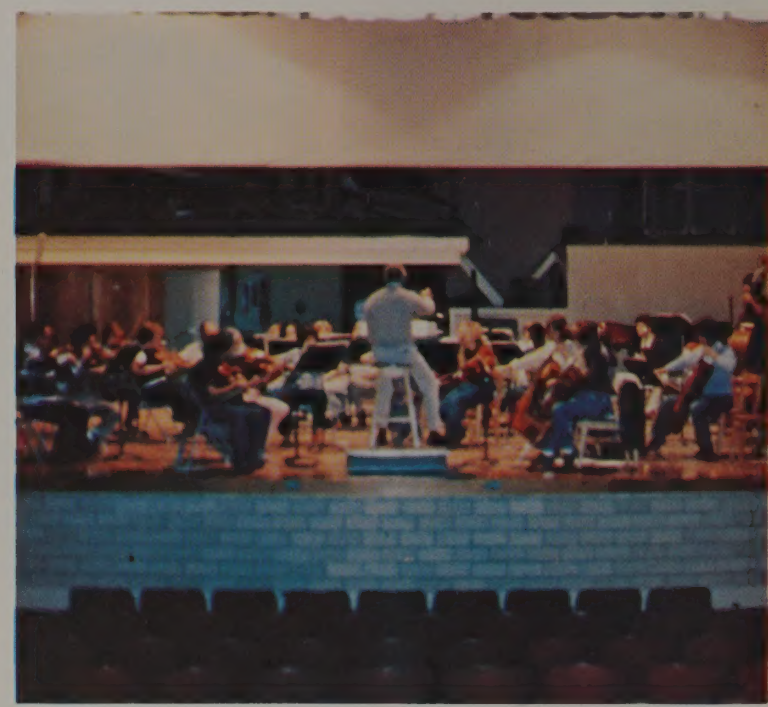
ESC Senior Scotsman Bob Cicerchi appears intent on his wish for fan support at this year's Homecoming Game. For him and many like him, 1982's Homecoming would be the last they would participate in as students. The SENIOR section begins on page 220.



Not quite the New York Philharmonic yet impressive in its enthusiasm. Student participation in music seems to overflow at ESC. More on ESC musical groups and others appears in the GROUPS section beginning on page 158.



A reversal in time? No — merely two ESC Students found masquerading about the Union on the Halloween night dance. For more crazy pictures and crazy costumes leaf through the STUDENT LIFE section beginning on page 68.

How does this young virtuouso relate to ESC's 1981-82 year? A young Japanese girl amazes an ESC audience with her skill at performing Classical music. The Suzuki violin group performed at ESC in early October. For more, peek at the PERFORMANCE SECTION beginning on page 50.

Prof. Ledrick of the Soc/Anthro/Social Work department no doubt generates interest with his popular, informal style. See more of ESC's professors by checking into the ACADEMICS section which begins on page 188.

This unidentified Scotsman appears lost in a whirlwind of pain. But his physical pain accurately reflects the summation of the ESC football squad's '81 season. For more on a tough football season and other Scot team farings, check out the SPORTS section beginning on page 8.

Do Edinboro eyes turn when a Greek car passes? Usually not. But in this instance Theta Chi is representing a major Greek function — contribution to the Homecoming parade. For more on Theta Chi and other Greeks see the GREEK section beginning on page 124.

ESC's #1 Pain

Registration Day

Registration day brought forth its usual first day problems.

McComb Fieldhouse was packed with people fighting long lines in an attempt to change courses. Many other students ran around the campus trying to find where the college had hidden their schedules. One of the most frequently asked questions was, "Where the heck's Doucette Hall?"

Most of the people in McComb were there because of schedule problems. Freshmen were placed in graduate courses. Others who had pre-paid and pre-registered, were not on the computer sheet.

Confusion reigned. Many long lines leading to many tables. Of Course, the lines paths weren't clearly marked.

The loudest complaints came from people who waited through long lines only to find out that they were in the wrong line.

Year after year, one thing remains consistent on the registration day. The freshmen receive an early introduction to the standard ESC policy: Inefficiency is the only way!

How to Piece Together a Preppie...

Could the preppy craze that is sweeping the nation finally be reaching Edinboro? Most everyone is caught up in the latest clothing rage that ranges from rubber "duck" moccasins and top-siders, to monogramming and the reknowned "IZOD."

The preppy lifestyle, outlined in Lisa Birnbach's Preppy Handbook, is being widely adopted as ESC, and the true prep conforms to the printed word almost religiously.

In case you want to know . . . The incredible success if the IZOD shirt began when the French tennis star Rene Lacoste broke with custom in 1926 by substituting a polo shirt for the typical garb, a white shirt and tie. He went on to personalize his shirt by adding a small crocodile to represent his nickname. Lacoste's shirt attracted so much attention that he went into business upon retiring from tennis, and the immense popularity of the sporting attire seems to have no end in sight.

"Wouldn't ya like to be a prepper too?"

Scots on National TV

For one week, October 18-24, ESC joined the top football teams in the country as their game at Slippery Rock was filmed by the Entertainment Sports Programming Network (ESPN).

The game was broadcast nationally by the network three times during the week.

The coverage gave both of the schools some very important exposure. The announcers for the game were John Sanders from KDKA Radio in Pittsburgh, and former Steeler quarterback Terry Hanratty.

The game turned out to be a big disappointment for ESC fans. The Scots played sloppy ball and lost 39-12

BASEBALL

Baseball team shows improvement

Although the baseball team finished the season with only five wins in twenty games, they showed a great improvement over last year's season when they posted only one victory.

Shortstop Greg Astorino was elected to the second team All Conference Team.

The leading hitter was catcher Bill Moore at .356, Mike Starks led the pitchers in wins with two, and Greg Harayda had the best ERA, 3.27.

Edinboro weather created its own problems causing several rainouts forcing several home games to be moved to other sites.

Coach Ron Bunofsky pointed out that the team was young, with only four seniors. Bunofsky cited a .299 team batting average and the lack of pitchers as the team's main weaknesses. He stated that at least six of the losses could easily have been turned around.

Cross Country Team Finishes Second in Nationals

The cross country team began the season with a goal of finishing in the top 5, nationally but raised their aim as the season progressed.

They extended their winning streak to 50 consecutive dual meets and ran well in several tournaments, as well. The runners dominated the 'We Love Erie' run, finishing 1, 2, 4, and 5. They also won the Akron Zip run, and the Notre Dame Invitational.

They ran a strong second in the prestigious Springbank International in London, Ontario. They performed equally well in post-season activity, winning the state Conference meet at Indiana, and finishing third in the NCAA Northeast regionals.

Millersville State edged out ESC by 2 seconds for the National title, but three Edinboro runners were named to the All-American team, Greg Beardsley,

Track Team heads for individual honors

Once again, the men's track team worke for individual honors instead of team result For the last several years Coach Doug Wat has abandoned the team concept.

Watts pointed out that, although the tea lacks depth for dual matches, ESC still scor well in the big meets.

He noted, "Our tradition of individual qua ity was maintained this year with outstandin performances by a number of men." The to performers were All-Americans Lance Whit and Rick Killian and steeplechaser Gre Beardsley, who qualified for the national mee

Greg Beardsley in the Steeplechase during the State meet at Millersville.

Women's Cross Country becomes Varsity Sport

The women's crosscountry team capped their inaugural varsity season by winning the Fredonia State Invitational Tournament.

The lady runners also won their first ever dual meet when they defeated Allegheny College 25-33.

The team was led by junior Elaine Morford who finished second overall in the Fredonia Tournament, and freshman Kathy Shockloss, who finished fourth.

The Runners' Coach, Bill McDonald, was pleased with the performance of his squad. "This was our first season and we had no recruits, so I was really pleased," he said. "They worked hard and we had some success, but we do need to recruit some more good runners."

With only one senior on the squad there is a good nucleus to build from.

Women's Softball Team still struggling

The softball team is still trying to get a firm step in the base paths as they won only one game this year.

Every year finds a new coach to lead the women. This year's coach was Fred Caro. He called the team "an enthusiastic bunch of girls," but added that the team needs more organization, and some good pitching.

FOOTBALL

ESC's Swarming defense sting California

ESC's Fighting Scot football team ended the season with a 4-6 overall record, but they recorded a poor 1-5 record in the PA. Conference-West Division.

ESC's only non-league loss came at the hands of powerful Fairmont State in West Virginia. The Scots exploded for 51 points in their home opener against New Haven, but they had trouble scoring after that game.

On average, the team had no trouble moving the ball down field, but crucial mistakes cost the team many scoring opportunities.

Four quarterbacks took turns trying to move the ball into the end zone.

Despite the scoring problem, the Scots' offense was ranked among the nation's leaders in rushing with an average near 240 yards per game.

The defense was also ranked among the leaders in rushing defense. Seniors Bob Cicerchi and Ron Link led the crushing defense.

Coach Creehan was not disappointed by the season. He explained that the club was young and he expected mistakes, but pointed to their improvement through the season. Creehan noted the team won their last three games.

Another late-season highlight was the emergence of Freshman quarterback Blair Hrovath. Hopefully, he will put an end to the musical QB's.

Lady Netters win Two State Titles

Junior Kim Wright went through the entire season undefeated to capture the PA singles title. The number two doubles team of senior Leslie Bier and freshman Nancy McManus went 12-0 to earn the second doubles title in the Pennsylvania Conference Championships. Overall, the team tied for third of the thirteen teams.

The team's overall depth was the key to their season 8-2 record, as well as their showing in the state match. Coach George Vierkorn pointed out that nine different girls earned points in the championships. And, most of the team will be back next year.

Michaelle Calarco and Leslie Bier are the only seniors. Leslie was very important to the team as a leader and co-captain, as well as earning a 9-1 record. She also earned a letter in all four of her seasons. Coach Vierkorn added, "In future years, my teams could be 20-0, but it would not be as complete, satisfying, and rewarding as this season has been.

Tennis Team wins ECAC

The man's tennis team racked up their 14th straight winning season as they captured their first-ever ECAC Division eastern regional title in the Fall.

During the spring, they set a school record for victories in 1 year, when they posted a 16-3 record. They also finished second in the Pennsylvania Conference and the NAIA District 18.

First year head coach Jim Flynn started his team with an 8 match southern road trip which included a match with Division 1 School Auburn University.

The net men returned home with a 7-1 record on their way to a great season.

The team was led by seniors Jim Abraham, Alan Staub, Lou Murphy and Drew Huskey.

Tony Womeodu and freshman Mike Madia completed the starting line-up. Coach Flynn reported that the team's overall depth won the ECAC for them, as everyone contributed.

Coach Flynn admitted that next season would have to be regarded as a rebuilding year, but looks for Dan Ferretti, Mike Bianchi and Tom Shaffer to fill in and keep the winning tradition.

SOCCER

Soccer Team looks to the future

Soccer coach George Shimpeno pointed out the season's goal, saying, "This was a year I played six freshman in the starting lineup. We knew we would be young and make mistakes. However, this was our best crop of recruits in a number of years and we gave them all experience." Shimpeno's spikers are young and made mistakes, winning only 2 of 11 games.

However, the team was in most of the games, giving up 3 or fewer goals in six of them. The squad's real problem was offense as they were shut out 6 times and only scored 10 goals for the season.

Coach Shimpeno highlighted the play of Freshman Joe Drozynski, Tom Purcell, and Michael Jack. He also admired the play of senior co-captain Paul Andriscin and Chuck Massaro and added that junior J.C. Martin was named to the All-Conference team.

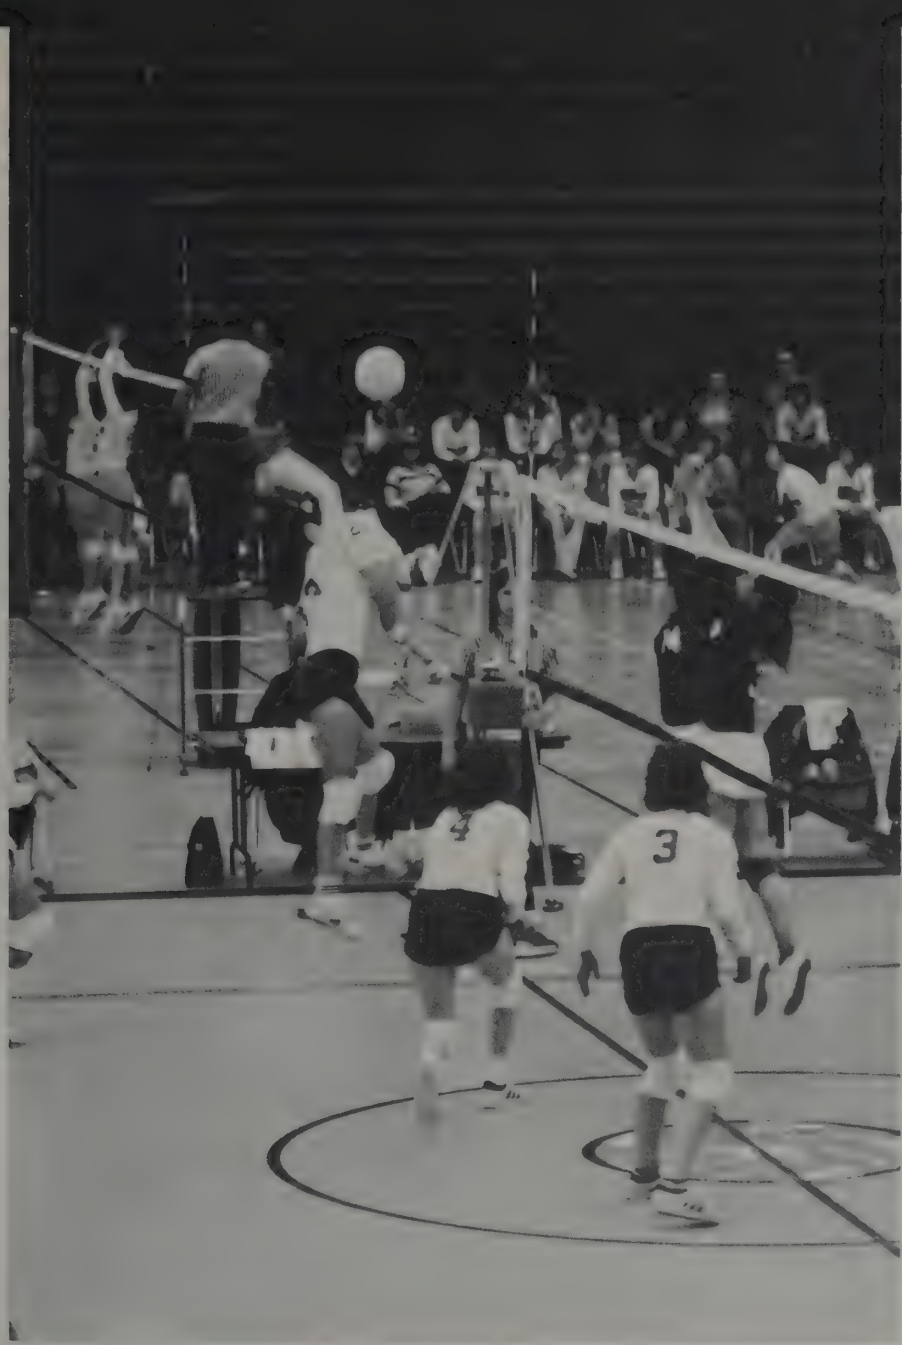
Women's Volleyball team heads for regionals

The 1981 ESC Women's Volleyball Team returned all six starters from the team which finished ninth nationally last season. This year the spikers picked up where they left off last season. They successfully defended their state title and moved to the regional tournament.

The team was led by four-year letter winners Pat Stucke, Marsha Miller, and Melody Groves.

Coach Pat McLane entered his 10th season with a 187-66 record, and improved his regular season mark to 210-75. McLane's biggest fear for this year was overconfidence, but the team lived up to his expectations.

At press time the Lady Scots were packing their bags for the regionals in Maryland.



Lori Lewis goes up for a spike in the National Championships.

The team at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

The lady netters travelled to Towson State in Maryland, where they arrived with their faces painted and stormed to the Eastern Regional Championship, defeating Southern Connecticut and Cortland in the semifinal and final rounds.

Edinboro was the only school out of the 16 which made the Nationals that did not award scholarships. Coach McLane was pleased even though they didn't win because they played well with the best teams in the country.

Looking to next season the major challenge will be replacing Melody Groves, Marsha Miller, Pat Stucke, Cindy Popatak and Lori Lee, although an excellent nucleus returns.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

Scots Reverse Horrid '80-'81 Record

Starting out 1-3, Guy Conti's Fighting Scots won 19 out of their last 22 regular season games.

The Scots opened the season with a second place trophy at the Fairmont State Thanksgiving Tournament, losing to host Fairmont in the championship game. Edinboro had a good performance at the Allegheny Tournament as they defeated Allegheny in the finals.

Leading the charge for the Scots were juniors Steve Senko and Land Battle. Senko averaged 12 points a game and ripped down RR bounds at an amazing 11.3 per game. Battle also shot over 55 percent from the floor.

Also contributing to the Scots' success was Edwin Wright and newcomers Brian Simmons and Clyde Brabson.

The season was highlighted by two victories over Clarion and a crushing win at Gannon.

Next year, the Scots will travel to Akron University. Conti is looking forward to next season since the entire team is returning.

The women's Basketball team suffered from a lack of depth as only 8 players were on the roster for half the season. However, head coach, Dr. Kathleen Lipkovich was not discouraged.

She was pleased with the "Never say Die" attitude of the team. She reported that it was one of the most determined teams she ever coached.

Coach Lipkovich pointed out that the small team also hurt practices because there are not enough players for a full scrimmage.

The season has given the 3 freshmen and 3 sophomores plenty of experience, which should give them a good nucleus to work with as only Wanda Hartzell will be graduating.

SWIMMING

Swimmers Register Luke-warm Season

A lack of depth hurt Coach Ed Erdos' swim team as they lost four straight mid-season matches.

Erdos pointed out the swimmers were getting the wins they expected, but the seconds and thirds were not coming through. He added that teams were aiming to knock off the Boro swimmers because of their strong reputation.

Scott Williams and Robin Doyle led the team into the State Championships, where Coach Erdos expected the team to do well.

Fred Caro's grapplers had their first losing season in seventeen seasons finishing with a 2-4 record.

The ESC Wrestlers had to face Division I powers Clarion and Slippery Rock. They also traveled to East Stroudsburg to take part in the 13-team Pennsylvania Conference playoffs which is considered to be the toughest state meet in the country. Edinboro was outclassed at East Stroudsburg as the Scots were one of four Division II schools. The other nine compete at the Division I level. Junior Ron Hamrick finished in the 150 pound weight class.

Senior Greg Sirb closed out his career at ESC in high fashion. The two-time All-American from Sharon, PA won the 118-pound titles at the Midwest Classic in Anderson, Indiana and at the Edinboro Invitational. Sirb also finished 6th at the state championships.

Coach Caro will have the majority of his wrestlers returning next year with only Sirb and Ed Wisniewski graduating.

Freshman Lori Mikula and sophomore Tammy Grieser did well in the all-around competition. The duo had to make up for the loss of senior all-around performer Wendy Smith.

The Lady Scots had to face tough Indiana University of PA and Pitt-Johnstown squads, along with competing in the Pennsylvania State Championships. Next year, the Lady Gymnasts will compete in the prestigious Frostburg Tournament.

1981 Madrigal Dinner

The 1981 Madrigal Christmas Dinner was, as in years past, and enjoyable ceremony for those who attended, and an especially great success for members of the E.S.C. Concert Chorale who made the entire event possible.

The Renaissance theme set the stage for the entertainment, the decor, the costumes, and the feast that was served at the dinner. The meal included everything from a roasted boar to hot apple cider.

Between courses the students performed. Students sang and danced, dressed in medieval traditional costumes.

The guests were also dressed for the occasion which took place in Van Houton Dining Hall.

The Concert Chorale, guided by Dr. Gordon A. Flood, was responsible for serving the exceptional meal and providing the entertainment for their guests.

These music students should be commended for all of their hard work which made the traditional Madrigal Dinner a success.

ROMEO and JULIET

E.S.C.'s Theater Arts department had a hectic but productive 1981.

In September the Theater Arts department left its former home with the Music department to take up partnership with the English department.

In December, though, the players took on their most demanding task of 1981 when they produced Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet."

Despite all of the attendant problems with language and cast demands that Shakespeare's drama inflicts on the performers, the college players managed a creditible run of possibly the most often performed of Shakespeare's plays.

The theater department's spring productions should prove even more interesting.

The small cast and technical demands of the March, 1982 "The Rainmaker", should provide E.S.C. with an interesting introduction to spring. The second spring production, maybe a horror classic, should make the Viewer's two hours in the theater a fascinating journey in special effects.

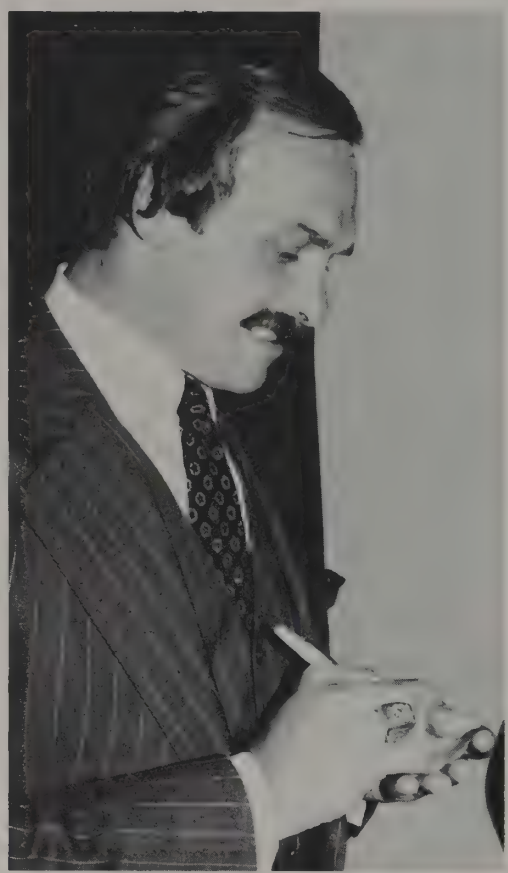
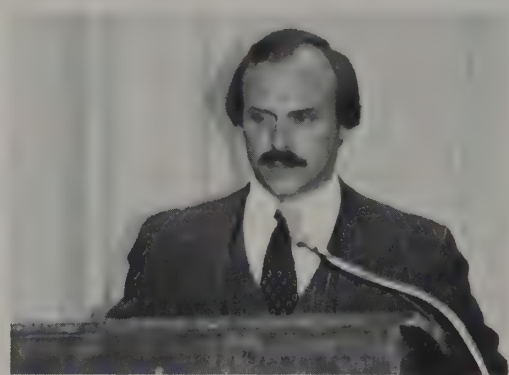
Former Steeler is Homecoming Week Speaker



As part of the week long homecoming celebration at Edinboro State College, the College added a special lecture featuring former Pittsburgh Steeler running back Rocky Bleier on October 7 in Memorial Auditorium. Edinboro head football coach Denny Creehan introduced Mr. Bleier. A special question and answer session moderated by Paul Newman, Sports Information Director followed Bleier's talk.

The saga of Rocky Bleier is like one of those heroic stories we all read as young people . . . how the slow, small captain of the college football team just barely gets into professional football and during his rookie year is drafted into the Army. He's not sent to "special service" as other celebrities, but to combat where he is seriously wounded. He's told that he'll never play football, much less run, ever again. But he overcomes his war wounds and fights back to become one of the most inspiring athletes that pro football will ever know. His team becomes one of the greatest of all times, and Rocky becomes a genuine star of that team. His book Fighting Back has been developed into a documentary ABC-TV Sunday Night Movie and given critical acclaim.



Rocky now has a career in the TV industry as a sports and anchorman for the Pittsburgh affiliate to NBC-TV. He is a consultant to a Pittsburgh Municipal Bond firm and will be doing "color commentary" for NBC football productions.

One of the country's most concerned professional athletes, Rocky is active in the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, The United Way, the Pittsburgh Civic Light Opera and the Veteran's Administration.

Architect/Philosopher Shares Artistic Views

Renowned Twentieth Century architect and forward thinker Buckminster Fuller spoke at Edinboro State College Monday, November 16 in The Memorial Auditorium.

Fuller, perhaps best known for his geodesic domes, lectured on a variety of subjects, all related to his belief in a coordinate system of nature that he call "synergetic-energetic geometry." His theory suggest that nature is most profitably viewed as a coordinate system based on triangles.

The holder of a variety of patents, including a automobile which seats 11 people and gets 50 miles to the gallon, Fuller has often been at odds with the more conventional thinkers of the century. In 1948 he conceived the geodesic dome which achieved general recognition at the 1964 World's Fair in N.Y.

Following the lecture the Art League of Edinboro State College sponsored a reception in Fuller's honor in Doucette Hall. the audience was invited to attend.

E.S.C. Presents "The Iceberg Machine"

As part of the Edinboro State College Cultural Events series, Michael Iceberg performed at the College on Monday, October 26. A master musician, Iceberg plays pyramid shaped keyboard, which he calls, "The Iceberg Machine." This unique instrument is not only a challenge for Iceberg, it is his life. It contains all the newest electronic music equipment, including synthesizers and computers.

"This unique instrument is not only a challenge for Iceburg it is his life . . . "

For the past five and a half years, Michael Iceberg has been a featured performer in the Tomorrowland Terrace at Walt Disney World in Florida, and his musical numbers are designed to appeal to a wide range of tastes. In concert, he performs rock and classical music, as well as Broadway selections. There were Disney songs and original works including a heavy electronic piece, a ballad, and a foot-stomping country tune.

The concert provided an evening of great music. Iceberg's ability to bring the machine to life has been nationally acclaimed by such artists as John Denver and Cat Stevens.

Mime Inspires Students with his Variety

The Enlightening performance of Tim Settimi, Mime, came to Edinboro in October, 1981. Settimi has been described as having the ability to suspend reality; to create belief in something that exists only in his mind. Settimi sizzles with insiration. His mind is lightning quick, picking up on any situation, and turning it toward a "good time." Settimi is a consumate artist.

Prior to his single act he toured with Sun-Day as a vocalist/flute player. He has composed a multi-media rock cantata, designed costumes, arranged and created visuals, and played several instruments throughout the show.

Settimi's show is an experience that expresses the finest possibilities of the art of mime. He causes laughter; he takes an audience to the edge of tears.

Settimi is a master of mime, using his highly developed talent to embrace audiences in his magic.

Suzuki children impress with technique

On October 13, a group of young musicians arrived at ESC for an impressive performance of Classical music under the direction of Shinichi Suzuki.

The young performers ranged in age from 8 years to 13. They acquired their skill at performing Classical music through Shinichi Suzuki.

Suzuki believes that the cultivation of one's musical appreciation should begin at infancy. The performers reflected this philosophy and thus were known as Suzuki performers.

The children possessed admirable technique. They performed pieces from composers such as Bach, Mozart, Vivaldi, Sibelius, and Mendelssohn.

Sonatas, Concertos, and Scherzos danced within the expressive whole. Meanwhile, piano, violin, and cello tones made sweet the sounds in the air that so lightly touched the ears of one so moved by the activities of those on stage.

STUDENT LIFE

When warm weather hits the Boro, students come out of hiding to pursue various activities, even studying.

For many students, the day is concluded by a trip to the cafeteria for some rare dish, possibly even the "Mystery Meat."

The library often causes students to fall to their knees and pray that they will be able to find all of their sources. The term paper is due in three days.

The everyday grind of attending classes shows on the faces of all ESC students.

There is always time for some rest, relaxation, and recreation on the campus. ESC students have several recreational facilities to take advantage of.

Who ever said classes can't be fun? These students are young, bright, eager to learn, and of course the professor is standing at the opposite side of the room.

Money — who doesn't always need a little of it? The marine Bank, above the Student Union, is always a busy spot on campus.

The Queen

The 1981 Homecoming weekend began on Thursday, October 8, when Laura Bernardini was crowned the 1981 Homecoming Queen.

The ritual included a bonfire, fireworks, a pep rally for the football team, and the introduction of the queen and her court.

Laura Bernardini, sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta and Sigma Tau Gamma, received the Homecoming Crown before the fireworks closed the ceremony.

Other candidates were: Penny Adams, sponsored by Gamma Sigma Sigma and Alpha Phi Omega; Cathy Capplinger, sponsored by Theta Chi and Delta Zeta; Scherry Carter, sponsored by Minority Students United, and Laura Fargo, sponsored by Zeta Tau Alpha and Lambda Chi Alpha.

A Float that Didn't Make It

Above: Portion of the sign "High Noon" is visible atop the skeletal portion of the unfinished float.
Right: Skeleton of the float before meticulous handiwork with crepe papier would add color to its design.

We all see the floats that make it to a parade — but what of the ones that remain unseen? What of those floats that were planned but for some reason or another never made it to the great kingly procession?

Well, Rose Hall's planned float "High Noon" became one such float.

Frustrations began early and continued until the very start of the parade.

After searching tirelessly for a work barn, the workers fought off splinters in their juggling of wood beams for a skeletal base for the float.

The next obstacle was chicken wire. If wood splinters wasn't enough, the altercation with chicken wire was.

. . . if wood splinters weren't enough, the altercation with chicken wire was . . .

Finally came the hours of meticulous work with crepe paper and the patient, trying battle with shellac.

Seem complete? Not quite — the wagon's wheel flattened at the start of the parade.

The float never made it into the rocession.

This clown added humorous tones to the parade

The "Spirit of the Scots"

"It was a beautiful day!" came the beaming reply of a bystander who was asked to point out an outstanding feature of this year's parade.

And it was.

No monsoon-like rains or unseasonal snows dulled the color or muffled the bands of this year's parade as has done in the past.

Instead clear skies and autumn colors provided the background for the procession which rang to the theme of "Those Good 'Ole Movies."

Participants included college as well as local high school bands and groups.

Sororities, Fraternities, ROTC, ESC administrators, miscellaneous campus groups — all sponsored cars which were seen throughout the procession.

Local bands contributed music. Bands from General McLane, Conneaut Valley, Union City, and Girard High Schools as well as a band from Ohio's Grand Valley High School participated in the parade.

Local youngsters always draw smiles from the bystanders. Local Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts, Brownies, Jr. Scouts, Little Gridders, and Little Gridder Cheerleaders did not go unnoticed in the march.

Add the light tones of clowns, balloons, and floats; touch it up with the aforementioned beautiful weather; and a painting of ESC's 1981 Homecoming Parade emerges.

Game Day Festivities

Competitive blood remained calm as Pre-game homecoming activities included announcements on the progress in the Curly Halmi Scholarship Drive and presentation of the first place winner in the parade's float contest.

The Curly Halmi Fund, founded for long-time local resident and ESC sport's supporter, will become a yearly scholarship given to a promising ESC sports recruit.

1981 Homecoming Queen Laura Bernardini took the stand to award Delta Sigma Phi the first place trophy for their float, Frankenstein.

Following the pre-game activities the Scots took the field to battle the Vulcans of California State in the annual Homecoming game.

Shoulder pads and helmets clashed, and white and red uniforms grew to be a soiled brown before both teams left the field. The Vulcans bested the Scots 9-3.

The Scots' only score came in the game's second quarter when a Scot kicker, Ricker Ruszkiewicz, kicked a 23 yard field goal.

Offensively, Keith Collier finished the game with 88 yards rushing on 20 attempts — an impressive achievement considering the Scots' troubled offense.

On Defense, Ron Link and Bob Beauregard, highlighted the defensive Scot action. Both ended the game with 17 tackles each against the persistent Vulcans.

MSB at ESC

On October 10, The Michael Stanley Band performed at ESC's McComb Fieldhouse for the Homecoming concert. According to Concert Committee Chairman John Small, a Crowd of over 3,000 turned out to welcome the Cleveland-based group. Their selection of songs came mostly from their latest album "Northcoast" which included the hits "Falling in Love Again" and "Heartland".

The crowd kept Michael Stanley and Company on stage for two hours. Applause encouraged the band to return to the stage for two encores.

The band ended the concert with the crowd pleaser, "Strike It UP".

Those Good Ole Movies

"The Wizard of Oz" sponsored by Lawrence Towers, won fourth prize.

The "Marx Brothers" float was constructed by Speech and Hearing.

ROTC won fifth place with the popular movie "MASH" as their subject.

"Those Good Ole Movies" provided the theme for this year's Homecoming parade, bringing a variety of floats representing popular movies of the past.

Five floats received awards. "Frankenstein", constructed by Delta Sigma Phi, won first place. "King Kong", sponsored by Theta Chi, and Delta Zeta, received the Queen's award. Phi Sigma Kappa boasted the Mayor's award with "South Pacific." And "The Wizard of Oz", sponsored by Lawrence Towers, and "MASH", constructed by ROTC, placed fourth and fifth.

The Commuters Club chose the "Yellow Submarine" as their subject.

"Tarzan," sponsored by Lambda Chi Alpha & Zeta Tau Alpha was a popular float.

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs", constructed by Business and Accounting Club added to the color of the parade.

"DORM SWEET DORM"

Time: Day one
Place: Edinboro State College
Scene: 400 mixed up students running in all directions unloading precious belongings.

Here you are, your first day at Edinboro, where do you begin?

Remember your first impressions?

Remember walking into your room for the first time and seeing your roomate? Remember the feeling . . . Let's load up the car and go home.

Remember how mom said, "Honey, the room isn't that bad, it just needs a few homey touches!!"

Your new life begins. Here you are, on your own . . . Almost. You then meet your substitute mother — your local R.A. (your first thoughts were, "I wonder how much I can get away with?)

As the weeks roll by you become more at home and you grow accustomed to dorm life.

Gradually you make friends on the floor and you find out you have something in common with at least 1 or 2 of them.

One of the not so great aspects of dorm life is doing your own laundry. You soon learn that whites, colors, and jeans just don't seem to go together. Your whites come out blue, while your reds now look pink and your jeans come out still dirty. While it may be expensive lesson it was a well learned one.

John Burns and Ron Lawson have manipulated netting to add life to their ceiling.

Barbara Barkey and Laurie Crance have picked up on the trend of using milk crates as shelves.

Bob Glover undoubtedly receives inspiration from these walls of contemporary design.

Laurel Zorn and Dale Nodianos find a net inspiring

DORM SWEET DORM...

Tom Pingor and Carl Ulmer enjoy a beer amidst music and poster, that add to their feeling of home

Billy Waldron and Alan Chip Deland find time to lounge with their dog yukon

Mike Valley, Kared Hoy and John Gostomski play backgammon "Under the Rainbow"

Other not so great aspects of dorm life include: locking yourself out of your room, crowded bathrooms, lack of privacy, quiet hours, trying to fit all your belongings into one little room, possibilities of getting a write up, and the most desperately missed — Mom's home cooking.

As a freshmen, dorm life has many advantages. First, you meet the friends you'll probably have for your remaining years at school. Living so close to those people give you the chance to get to know them very well. Having many friends then gives you the advantage to borrow other's clothes, when you just can't seem to manage up until laundry day.

Even though the rooms are small, they soon begin to feel like home, with posters plastered all over the walls, and seeing how many way's you can rearrange the room until it's just right! Many people would be surprised at how much you can actually be stuffed into a dorm room, which will be your home for the next two semesters . . .

Sporting It At The Boro

Okay. Let's say you've been studying for a couple of hours . . . Well, maybe an hour. Maybe you don't feel like studying. What do you do? Well, if you're like a goodly number of students at ESC, you probably play tennis with a friend, get into a pick-up football game, go out for a run, or find an indoor activity at McComb Fieldhouse.

The tennis courts near Sox Harrison Stadium and behind Crawford Gym encourage constant play.

If you're into football, whether it be a masochistic game of tackle or a "nice" game of touch, you can probably get into a game played between Towers and Shafer Hall. Walkons are accepted.

If running is your game, the campus is a nice place to jog. It's very scenic, and it's flat, and it's hilly too for those who enjoy cross-country running. There is also the gravel track at the stadium.

The weightroom, located in the basement of McComb Fieldhouse, is most impressive. It is also one of the most used facilities on the campus.

McComb also provides handball/racquetball courts. These play areas are in almost constant use requiring the would-be player to sign up in advance in the intramural office. The busiest night of the week is Friday in the McComb Gym. If you don't get there early you may have to sit for a while before you can get into a game.

Students tone up on the fieldhouse's newly added Nautilus weight machines.

Racquetball is a popular pastime at ESC. The courts are nearly always occupied by students looking for competition.

Halloween Happening

On Saturday, October 31, 1981 the College Union was the site of the annual Halloween costume party.

Witches, goblins, ghosts, and some not so frightening characters showed up.

Students spent many hours making their own costumes, and judges had a tough time choosing winners for the five places.

The first place winner was Dale Docter who dressed as a penguin. Second place went to Craig McKein who appeared to be riding an ostrich. Leslie Bier, Chris O'Donnel, Sherri Broun, and Patti Raykovics captured third place as the brown bag people. Three crayons, Steve Kohler, Jamie Jones, and Polly Adams, took fourth place. Complete with shields, spears, and horns, Carl Etzel and Brenda Brawley captured fifth place for their viking costumes, ala, Mr. and Mrs. Hagar the Horrible.

Freedom In The Sky

TheThermal-G-Balloon Port from Wattsburg visits the Edinboro State campus periodically to take advantage of our spacious grounds and flat landing areas.

Balloons set up in the field area near Laxarence Towers and fly home to Wattsburg carrying two passengers.

One of the many interesting sites at Edinboro, the Balloon port attracts hundreds of visitors each time it visits the Campus. Children from 3 to 80 gather near the balloon hoping to be offered a ride in the sky. As the balloons leave ESC pursuing their destinction, home port Wattsburg, none of the passengers seem to worry about the long walk home from the other end of the county.

LIVING IT

The Outdoor Recreation Center has become increasingly active in the past few years and offers a wide range of recreational and learning experiences for the E.S.C. student. The center has various equipment i.e. camping, alpine, nordic skis, snow shoes, tobbogans, scuba gear, climbing, rapelling gear, rafts, canoes, and kyaks for the student to rent. There are five different trips offered throughout the school year, each specializing in a particular recreational activity. A trained staff takes 30 to 40 students to various campsites and teaches them the basics of either white water rafting, canoeing, kyaking, rack climbing, rapelling or cross country skiing. The students are kept busy during the day with instruction and at night with group cooking and staff and student entertainment.

The center also offers free cross country ski lessons and kyaking lessons during the year. A scuba course offering a NAUI certificate is available three times per year at a minimal cost. There are three all college ski nights when ski equipment, lift tickets, and transportation are provided for the student.

Dental Technology

One of the most exciting fields here at Edinboro State College is Dental Technology. The program works in conjuntion with the Allied Health department under the direct supervision of professors Mr. James Gilspy and Mr. Burton Kaploe. Successful completion of the two year program gives the student an associate degree in dental technology. Specific laboratory procedures are taught with the purpose of having the student becoming proficient in two or more areas of dental technology. Upon completion of labs and classroom experience the student will visit a commercial dental lab and spend some time in practical application of what was learned.

Edinboro Solar Telescope

This year Edinboro acquired the school's first solar telescope. Much of the work required to build and install the telescope was completed by Edinboro Physics major, Mike Thiem, under the supervision of Dr. James Lo Presto.

The Solar Telescope will increase our knowledge of the sun and its composition.

The telescope will also enable researchers to perform complex experiments dealing with spectrum analysis.

In order to analyze the solar spectrum, the telescope tracks the sun and directs a constant beam of light approximately six inches in diameter inside the observatory, enabling students to study the sun's image and the solar spectrum.

In addition to the opportunities for research the solar telescope provides, this valuable piece of equipment will make possible the offering of a new course in Solar Astronomy at Edinboro.

The new opportunites for education and research, make the solar telescope a definite asset to the Edinboro Physics department.

Mike Thiem and Dr. LoPresto make final adjustments to the solar telescope.

The nemesis of every college Student — lab classes. The labs are time consuming and the write-ups are hectic and generally are done at the last minute. Careful observation is a key factor in a successful lab, one which yields favorable results. From Chemistry to Physics to various Physiology — the range of classes that offer a lab activity is numerous. By having such a variety, all students have the opportunity to try out their ability as Dr. Jeklyll — and possibly Mr. Hyde will result?!

Changing Sex Roles

We're well into the last half of the 20th Century, but we seem to suffer still from the old "double standard."

In many respects, it seems as if men and women are moving in exactly opposite directions to prove that they no longer wish to be sex-stereotyped. Most women today don't really feel the need to be "liberated," but they do want to feel more free in making their own decisions. Not only decisions about their careers and futures, but decisions about something as simple as whom they wish to date.

How many females do you know who have the courage to ask a guy out they are interested in?

There aren't that many.

Most girls don't feel quite comfortable with the role of the "asker." They still need to be the "askee."

When we asked ESC guys how they felt about being asked out by a girl their comments varied from "I would be flattered" to "I think she's too pushy for me."

Nobody seemed to notice the quiet, complex changes in sex roles when the 80's downed two years ago.

However, sex roles are changing and the rumblings of those changes grow louder with each passing month. Women may still play at the process, but they are serious.

Sorority Participation

On December 2 at 8:15 in ESC's Memorial Auditorium the Panhellenic Council sponsored a designer fashion show.

The show was open to all, but the main purpose of the show was to allow the sororities to present a combined rush activity. Six girls from college sororities participated in the show as models, presenting 1981 designer fashions provided by Sulu's Factory Outlet in Meadville, PA.

Edinboro Student Becomes 1981 Miss Erie County

On June 20, 1981, Kim Bort, an E.S.C. freshman was named Miss Erie County for 1981. Kim's interest in the contest was spurred by her high school, Mercyhurst Prep. Applications were sent to various Erie County high schools and girls were encouraged to apply; Kim applied and in so doing found herself at the Warner Theater on the aforementioned date. The pageant, which leads to the Miss Pa. pageant if Kim so desires, involved judging based on three categories: modeling of a bathing suit, modeling of a gown, and answering a question in front of the audience. Kim's point total resulted in her crowning as Miss Erie County. As the winner Kim received several lovely gifts from the pageant sponsors: memberships to a health spa, a Nautilus Club in Erie, jewelry, gift certificates to various clothing stores and also a gift certificate for Mace Electronics. As the reigning queen, some of Kim's responsibilities include parades, interaction with the "We Love Erie" days, attendance at fund raisers and functions for the handicapped.

Kim, an 18 year old Humanities/Communications major and a twirler with the E.S.C. marching band, has not decided whether she will attend the Miss Pa. pageant. Her reign as Miss Erie County will end in June of 1982 and Kim looks forward to continuing to carry on her title.

Graffiti Room is Extension of Artist's Fancies

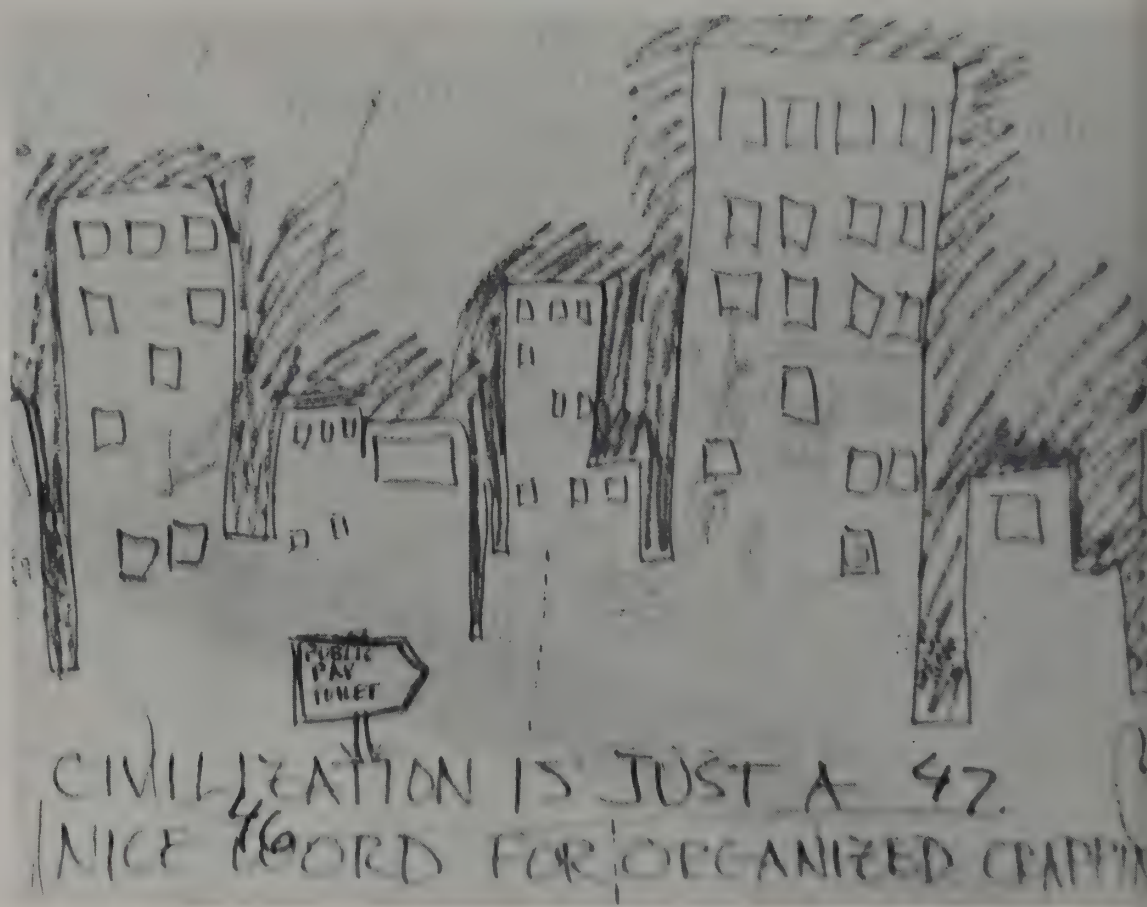
Browse about the art buildings on campus and you may run into some interesting things.

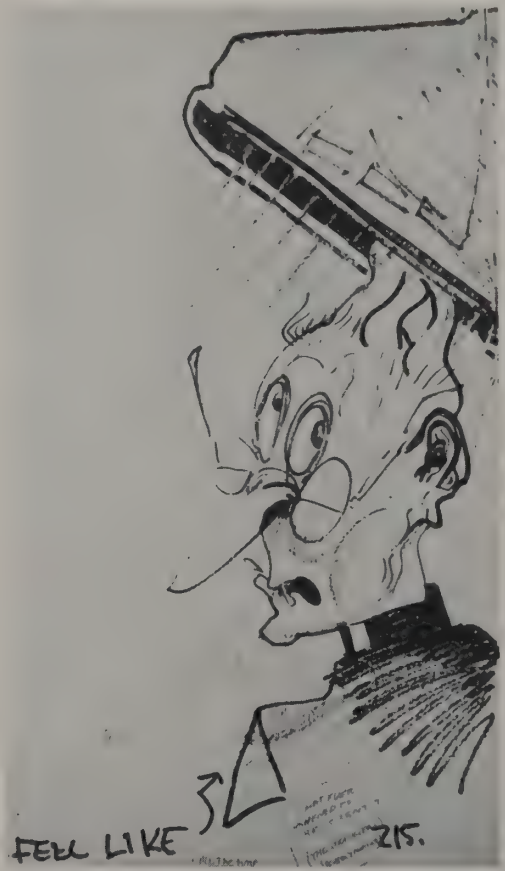
A grafitti room is hidden about the jigsaws and wood in Loveland Hall.

E.S.C. artists extend their creative fancies to this room by splashing its walls with stream-of-consciousness grafitti.

The scenes on this wall — ranging from mythical re-creations to silly artlike wisdom — can be interesting to ponder over.

E.S.C. artists may graduate to drift into the world of design — but many leave their legacies upon their free walls.





Mythical figures add an ancient touch to a present popular saying — "Have I hugged your children today." While above the caption under this sketch reads — "Ever feel like this?"

" . . . The scenes — ranging from mythical re-creations to silly pop art-like wisdom — can be interesting to ponder over . . . "

Advertising provides the understanding to these splashes of whim. The caption at the left reads: "The Geek goes through a dance in honor of the large box of cereal he worships." While the caption atop the figure in apparent agony above reads: "Oh Shit, I could have had a V-8!"

WFSE Goes 3000 Watts

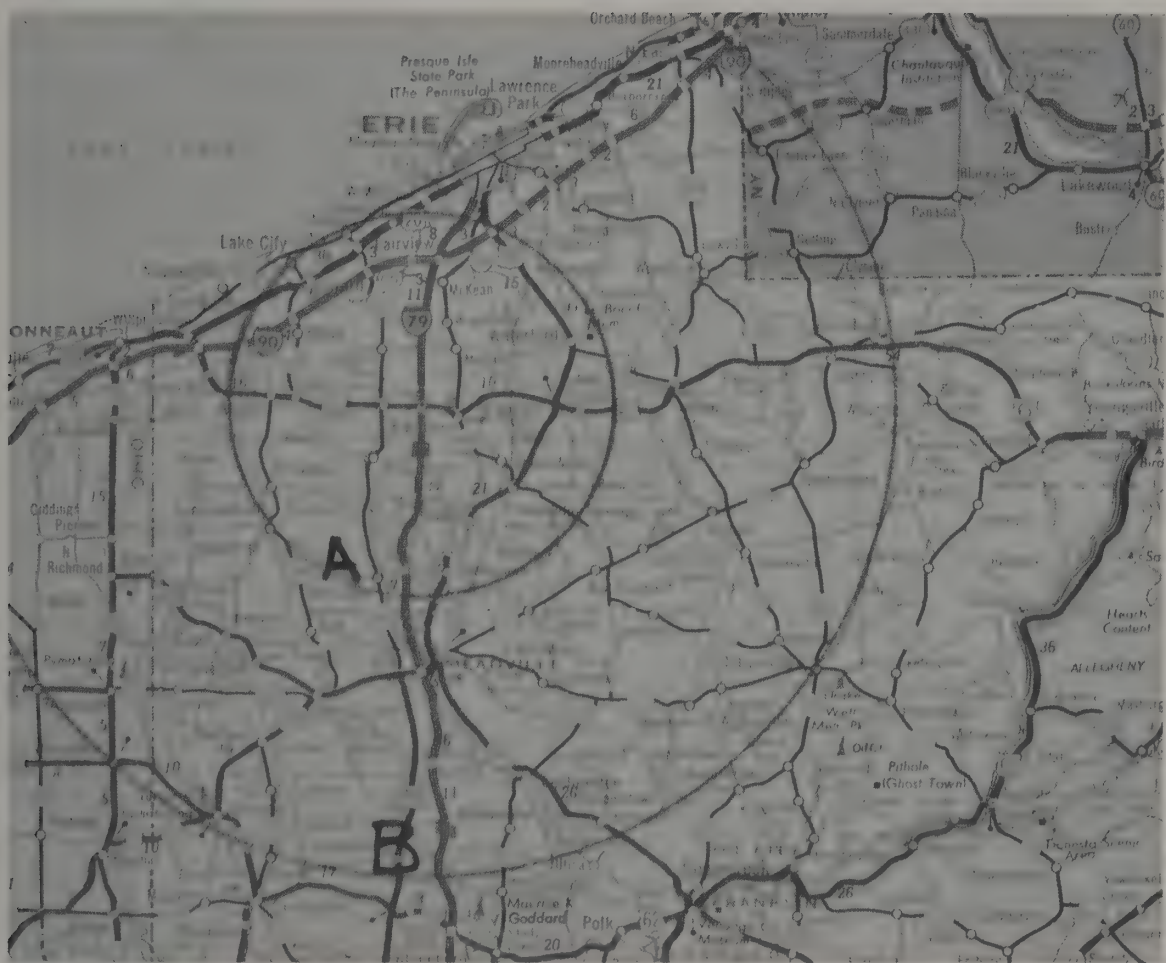
"It doesn't make sense for the college radio station to be just a 'juke-box.' WFSE is unlike any other station in the area . . . and there is no doubt that we're going to be competitive at 3000 watts."

With these words WFSE-FM leaves the realm of toy, and hobby and, "do your own thing" academic radio and enters the world of competitive broadcasting.

With the move to 3000 watts WFSE will beef-up its management and staff with a view toward creating a professional and creative student-run radio facility.

WFSE will continue to stress entertainment, but the station's magazine format will permit the station to offer a consistent pattern of classical, country, jazz, and rock music as well as a sturdy supply of public affairs and sports broadcasts.

Dr. Gary Christiansen and the management of WFSE deserve applause for the radio successes they have brought to ESC in the past. We wish them luck in their new venture.



Map at Left, marked A & B, indicates the primary and secondary coverage areas of the new, 3000 watt, WFSE-FM. All-the-time coverage is now assured in the 18 mile "A" radius, while the secondary area provides coverage that may vary according to terrain or weather conditions.

The Spectator

The Spectator is a laboratory through which the student gains practical experience in the field of print media. This Experience includes not only writing, but also editing, make up, photography and advertising. A student might also gain experience in patience, humility, politics, red tape and caffeine.
